Mediation Services:

Centerpoint Resolution Specialists, LLC

Mediation is a positive way to resolve family issues without going to court. In mediation, you and the other parent (ex-spouse, step-parent, grandparent, or guardian) meet with a skilled mediator to reach agreements that will work for everyone involved. You make the decisions without expensive and exhausting legal battles. Our mediators will help you learn how to communicate better, so you can work together for your family. It really works! We mediate all family concerns: divorce, parenting plans, parent/teen, blended family plans, guardianship, and elder care. Call 360/ 892-2992 to speak with a mediator, or learn more online at www.centerpointresolution.net.

Positive Change Mediation: Separated or separating? Would having a productive discussion with your Ex or Ex-to-be in a safe environment with a skilled facilitator help your relationship with your children? Positive Change Mediation Services offers families expert guidance with parenting plans, parenting plan modifications and more. Parent-teen and Step-family mediations and Separation Coaching services (i.e, you want to co-parent better but the other parent won't mediate) are also available. Check www.XandParent.com for more info or call 448-8833. Reduced rates are available for low-income clients who pre-qualify.

New Service: "Child's Voice". Wondering how to make the best decisions for your children while going through your divorce or separation? Consider "Child's Voice", a new service jointly offered by Heart Connections and Positive Change Mediation. The service combines mediation and insights from a child advocate to help parents make more informed decisions, while also helping their children shift from one household to two. For more information call Heart Connections at (360) 213-1801 or Positive Change Mediation (360) 448-8833, or link to http://xandparent.com/child_s_voice.

Transitions Program

The Transitions program, through Innovative Services NW, offers current and former foster youth, 15-19 years of age, a combination of group instruction, interaction and individualized case management services to help in the areas of life planning, coaching, guidance, education and employment support, and communication and relationship building. The Transitions program believes that one vital factor in creating successful change is recognizing and addressing the emotional and psychological effects of the change process. When a youth can recognize and put into words where they are with their feelings, they are able to move through the transitions in their lives with better ease. The Transitions program meets every Thursday from 5-7pm, with food provided. For further information, please call 750-5836 or 750-5828.

Support Services for Families Living with Disabilities

Vancouver-Clark Parks and Recreation invites people of all ages with disabilities to fully participate in any programs that are offered. Inclusion services provide opportunities for people with and without disabilities to recreate together. They have freedom to focus on needs, interests, and abilities instead of disabilities. There is extra staff support (at no charge) to include people with disabilities in community recreation. If interested, please call inclusion services at (360) 487-7057 or Teresa Williamson at (360) 487-7060. For information on our classes see our website at www.vanclarkparks-rec.org or pick up a current catalog at any one of our facilities.

Encore Employment Services

Innovative Services NW, has provided community-based supported employment to individuals with disabilities and other barriers to work since 1978. Participants work with Job Developers to explore the world of work, tour job sites, and sample jobs of interest and conduct a job search. Job seeking and interviewing skills are taught and resume/portfolio assistance is given. Job Coaches assist in on-the-job training and job supports once positions are located. Through careful and customized job matching, and diligent job supports, our participants enjoy a high job retention rate: over half of our employed participants have been on the job for over 5 years and counting.
